We are an organization that promotes the growth and development of entrepreneurial ideas. We've taken the considerable financial risk of opening and operating a commercial kitchen and reduced that risk to a single fixed cost on which to base your business plans. Plus, our hourly rates mean you only pay for what you use, removing the burden of long-term leases while minimizing start up costs. You can start with us and grow with us. We will always be able to accommodate your needs.

In addition to helping emerging businesses grow, we also help existing businesses expand. Our sole business is helping you with yours, and to that end we pride ourselves on being friendly, flexible, and attentive to your needs.

Our goal is to provide a working opportunity for:

- Personal Chefs
- Caterers
- Bakers
- Food Cart Vendors
- Packagers
- Special Event Coordinators
- Cooking Classes

So, whether you've just graduated from culinary school and plan to open a small food business, have an old family recipe, or would like to try selling your salsa at farmers' markets, the big question is: Where do you begin?
